I remember how it used to feel
That all the dreams I dreamed would come to be
But each promise made would masquerade
And all my fine ideas would come to nothing
I must admit to feeling that the odds
Were stacked and I could never win
And the more I tried the more I cried
But through it all I knew there would be something

Well I've got news for you
You're never gonna bring me down
Saw the door and walked right through
Here I am
There's just nothing left to prove
Here I am

And so you tried to slow me down
But I was moving much too fast for you
And it doesn't matter what you say
Or where you are today cause
I've stopped running
And if our paths should ever cross
I don't think I would even recognise you
I know they say it's in the blood
But you've got yours and I know that I've got mine

And again I say
You're never gonna bring me down
And there's nothing left to prove
Here I am
There's just nothing you can do
You're never gonna bring me down
Saw the door and walked right through
Here I am
