Girl stuck on the side of a street she said
Why is everyone crossing here she said
There's gotta be somewhere else
Somewhere where people don't shoot each other

Girl doesn't like watching TV much
She's coming from somewhere else
Somewhere where gravitiy doesn't stop people

All that I hear
Fills me with fear
For your protection
I fear what you do

And you always remind me of her
And you run when you feel insecure
And you always remind me of her
And you're lost in your own wonderland

Girl lives in a country house she's got
White rabbits to chase the spiders out

She'll turn into someone else
All it would take is what's in her bottle

And all that I hear
Fills me with fear
But that's your protection
I fear what you do
Yes I fear you do

And you always remind me of her
And you run when you feel insecure
And you always remind me of her
And you're lost in your own wonderland

I fear what you do
Yes I fear you do

And you always remind me of her
And you run when you feel insecure
And you always remind me of her

And you're lost in your own wonderland

I fear what you do

Yes I fear you do
