Can't believe the daily news
It's mostly bad, it's sad but true
I realize how close the end is near
The world is singing down so low
More weaked than the days of Noah
Lord we need you, that much is true

Lord you said that you would come
And wipe away our tears, oh Lord
It's been two thousand years since you were here

Lord since you've been gone, everythings gone
wrong
Just like you said that it would do
But Lord I still believe
You're comin back for me
To take me home to live with you
Waitin day and night, for you to crack the sky
I know we're comin to the end, tell me when
Will I see you again, my Lord
Tell me when, will I see you again

So many have no place to stay
Children have no place to play
It's against the law to pray in school
I'm waiting for the day to come when Every eye shall see the sun till
Then I'm gonna do what I gotta do

Lord you said that you would come
And wipe away our tears, oh Lord
It's been two thousand years since you were here

Lord since you've been gone, everythings gone
wrong
Just like you said that it would do

But Lord I still believe
You're comin back for me
To take me home to live with you
Waitin day and night, for you to crack the sky
I know we're comin to the end, tell me when

Will I see you again, my Lord
Tell me when, will I see you again

You died for us, once before
Sacrificed your life upon the cross
Oh Lord will you be comin in
The noon day sky
Or will you arrive like a thief in the night

Lord since youâ've been gone, everythings gone
wrong
Just like you said that it would do
But Lord I still believe
You're comin back for me
To take me home to live with you
Waitin day and night, for you to crack the sky
Lord, we're comin to the end, tell me when
Will I see you again, my Lord
Tell me when, will I see you again

Lord since youâ've been gone, everythings gone
wrong
Just like you said it would do
But Lord I still believe
You're comin back for me
To take me home to live with you
Waitin day and night, for you to crack the sky
Lord, we're comin to the end, tell me when
Will I see you again, my Lord
Tell me when, will I see you again
