How can you always put me down
When you're never even there to hang around
When you do, you're always too drunk to talk
Hey! Hey! Hey!
How come you always hang around
With a methamphetamine whore drug hound
And never even listen to a word I say

Drugs and alcohol, bullet holes
Through the walls, what am I gonna do?
I'm only 16 years old, but I've been through
More than most anybody that I knew

I'm always in a fight in my school
They want me to obey the golden rule
But the rules don't apply to everyone
No no no

And what I can do when the big boss man
Tells me that I have to understand
I can't be proud to be who I am

Drugs and alcohol, bullet holes
Through the walls, what am I gonna do?
I'm only 16 years old, but I've been through
More than most anybody that I knew

How can I afford to fail
When the only option is goin' to jail
Why should I even try?
I've got a tattoo that says "Win or Die!"
The invasion's on, that's no lie
I'm sure I won't even live to tell the tale

Drugs and alcohol, bullet holes
Through the walls, what am I gonna do?
I'm only 16 years old, but I've been through
More than most anybody that I knew
