You wouldn't believe,
Some of the things I let happen to me.
The stories I tell,
Reflect my unique priorities

I invite the chaos right into my life.
Time and again
I welcome the chaos to riddle my life.
Somehow brings something out of me.
Don't judge me by the chaos you see in my life,
Cus I use it as fuel to move mountains and I,
Wouldn't trade it all away.

You won't understand,
Sometimes I don't even understand,

Why making life easy,
Doesn't lend itself to who I am

I invite the chaos right into my life.
Time and again
I welcome the chaos to riddle my life.
Somehow bring something out of me
Don't judge me by the chaos you see in my life,
Cus I use it as fuel for the fire and I,
Wouldn't trade it all away.

And I'll be quite alright after all.
Yes I'll be quite alright on my own.
