(Brian Chrupalyk)

I know its late late in the day
late in the night
late in our lives; but it seems like fate

I had a thought of something I sought
came to my brain
like drops of rain; all the joy you've brought

I saw the sign
the planets aligned
the sun went crashing
the moon stole the sky; the stars all sang

Some call it love
some call it light
some say its wrong

but I think its right
it feels soooo right

CHORUS:
And all I can do... is wait I know its true... its never too late Theres no one like you... sweet babe I don't wanna be blue... another day

I look in your eyes
the abstract designs
they mix with mine
and make me rely...
on a thing called fate
anyone can relate
but only the lucky
can say they've tried...
