

Brian's Curse "Cloud Nine"

Visit "Cloud Nine" on MotoLyrics.com

-B.Chrupalyk

It was a chilly Friday night the forecast called for snow I pulled up, my heart was pounding we always fear what we don't know and I have loved for such a long time even though I didn't ever say I always hoped we'd find our place on cloud nine someday

it just seemed so simple that we'd always be passing in and out of lanes heading towards destiny And it finally came together on that night that comes every few years the ghosts of the past and present were finished playing on our fears and the future looked so damned sweet as you lay your head on me Your fingers became locked with mine I was on cloud nine suddenly it was so perfect the way we softly kissed your hypnotic eyes showed the road to happiness

Visit Brian's Curse page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.