Vulture, you're cold, the shark of a maple
Searching for prey by the beat of our hearts
Forgetting your love is the mark of the angel
You'll follow the trail of blood,
To our shaking bones hidden in the attic
We lose to your guns

But you still have my love, you still have my love
You still have my love, one thing I'll ask is enough
Just don't say a word, but darling be human
Darling be human

Yeah

I'm a candle in the dark, riding hopefully to family
I've been wonderin' where you are and it you'll get this,
I don't know
Sneakin' through the park past the soldier in the canopy
Gotta move, gotta get out

But you still have my love, you still have my love
You still have my love, one thing I'll ask is enough
Just don't say a word, but darling be human
Darling be human

Does she know what she means to me
A soft shadow of the apple in my tree

I watch for eyes, the owl's on my shoulder
He'll be there for life, he can watch over me
True love exists, it is out there, I am sure of it
You'll find your peace

You still have my love, one thing I'll ask is enough
Just don't say a word, but darling be human
Darling be human
