I'll take that one,
The place less traveled,
A room so cold
To help the warm unravel

The town is still wet
From when you painted last night
Now you're the dye
Because you like it so bright

And your eyes were watching me from the stars.
If you feel like taking me,
Then I'll just walk away
And you'll be there when I sleep.
Your eyes are watching me.

Your eyes were watching me from the stars,
Your eyes were watching me from the stars,
Your eyes were watching me from the stars,
Your eyes were watching me from the stars,
Your eyes were watching me from the stars,
Your eyes were watching me from the stars,
Your eyes were watching me from the stars,
Your eyes were watching me from the stars

If you feel like taking me,
Then I'll just walk away
You'll be there when I sleep
Your eyes are watching me

I have heard of love at first sight,
Baby, I dont believe in it (dont believe in it)
I have heard that love is blind, so how can I expect to see it?
