These are the days
When everything is golden
When everything gets harder everyday
There's no way you're doing this alone

Today, you're eyes are always open
When skies are grey,
Don't close them, look away
The clouds will turn the other way

And after all the rain,
There comes a better day
We'll push past all the troubles in our lives

We carry on through stormy weather Through thick and thin we're by your side (we're by your side)
Never forget we'll be together
Here tonight, in the fight of our lives

Then I start to wonder
Why everything gets harder everyday
Why can't life just always stay the same
'Cause things are always moving
We'll sing a song to dry your tears away
I'm here for you, I'm here today

And after all the rain,
There comes a better day
We'll push past all the troubles in our lives

We carry on through stormy weather,
Through thick and thin we're by your side (we're by
your side)
Never forget, we'll be together
Here tonight, in the fight of our lives

And I'll spend everyday
Just trying to find a way
To take away the pain (in the fight of our lives)

We carry on through stormy weather

Through thick and thin we're by your side (we're by
your side)
Never forget, we'll be together
Here tonight, in the fight of our lives

Never forget, we'll be together
Here tonight, (here tonight) in the fight (in the fight) of our lives
