Lying wind
feeling touch my skin Crying and screaming away the pain Listening to the sound of the wispering rain Feeding the hunger that is burdening me the sound of death i hear tonight
The pain and tears
That have been building up for all of these years

let go of all the darkness hiding the light a brightness behind a wall of dark gray of sky
Just tell me a lie
So I won't cry
Making me weaker
I as I fall to my knees
Don't let me go...please
