An apology won't help you, and how's it feel to lose at your own game?

I hope you're ashamed like you were before.

Now once more tell me you are sorry,

Now once more tell me it wasn't worth your time

Because you've lied a thousand times and I've heard this all before.

So this is the last time I'll ever breathe for you

And I'm not saying I'm sorry cause you're the fool.

It's exactly what I mean when I say you're self-centered

And such a drama queen.

You've come from player to being played.

Failure's never looked the same.

You're a work of art and a catastrophe;

I don't know why you went with me.

I'll set you down with ease or at least I'll try.

You lost the best thing you'll ever have and you won't ever get it again.

This is the last time I'll ever breathe for you

And I'm not saying I'm sorry cause you're the fool.

It's exactly what I mean when I say you're self-centered

And such a drama queen.
