The emotion in a stomach acid
Is equal to the depth of Albert's eyes
And all of the equations that were mastered
Belong to average ordinary life
Yeah I know, it's so natural
Yeah I know, I've been here before
But only if I ask you
And maybe not at all
When you look down and see that you were playing
Upon the greatest oceanic truth
Yeah I mostly understand what you were saying
And after all there's quite a lot of proof
But only if I ask you
And maybe not at all
Its getting colder in Alaska
But round here its getting warm
