I've let too many little things
Ruffle my feathers way down my wings
And I have wasted precious time
On the difference between a dollar and a dime
I kept my heart under wraps
And watched my life slip through the cracks

But finally it dawned on me
This road's not as hard as it seems
I've taken the lows a whole lot better
All of my edges fit together
Everyday feels like it should
Life is good

I'm learning to laugh at myself
But humble enough to ask for help
Willing to take a second look
Give it a chance not close the book
I took what I used to know
And then I let it all go

Finally it dawned on me
This road's not as hard as it seems
I've taken the lows a whole lot better
All of my edges fit together
Everyday feels like it should
Life is good

Life is good

Finally it dawned on me
This road's not as hard as it seems
I've taken the lows a whole lot better
All of my edges fit together
Everyday feels like it should
Finally it dawned on me
This road's not as hard as it seems
I've taken the lows a whole lot better
All of my edges fit together
Everyday feels like it should
Life is good
