Nice try

But talent's a real game and your not qualified to play so pick up all the names you've been dropping so you don't trip again (don't trip again) if only the world could see you as i do if you keep trippin up that moment might come soon but then again with your face stuck in the mud you might just see the person you've become now we can step out of this one

wake the hell up you thief you've been on your knees with real musicians begging for a chance
and it's too late to find another talent to fake

your down on all counts and you can't keep up we're faster, stronger, we'll last a little longer than this maybe you should buy your songs from somewhere else

your down on all counts and you can't keep up
we're faster, stronger, we'll last a little longer than this

i'll let karma take its toll on you don't let it kill you meanwhile i'll be trying my best to be original to not pilfer the words of the people who made me who i am, made me, who i am [x3]
