

Broken Bones

"Nowhere To Run"

No place to run and hide
To free the pain that's in my mind
The whole world's falling in on me
My brain is numb, my eyes they cannot see
Jump into your separate skin
Split personality twin
You're living in a nightmare man
Tread carefully, or your last breath might be death
No way out, no release

No way to make my problems cease
Absorbing all the hatred that dwells in me
All the hatred you cannot see
Seems my sleepless nights
And my endless days
Will soon come to and end
When they switch off this machine
That keeps me prisoner here
