Life's a struggle it doesn't need to be when i turn on my tv

Life slowly turns to mush as i flip through a thousand channels

My own will leaves me suspended learn to appreciate another

Laugh track laugh track laugh track

I don't know but I think I used to care about someone or something in this life

But that'd mean I'd have to get up from my throne which means it doesn't matter anyway Television's the only way

I don't wanna see it take me away. hey!
But i don't wanna see it go away. hey!
I think i might be losing my way. hey!
The gateway drug has left me insane
