I'd like to get a grasp
On my reality
I'd like to open up
A new chapter of me
I'd like to quit
Everything on the burner
And I'd like for once
To write a page turner

But when the night
Follows me home
And I start missing you
I know in my mind
There's nothing I can do
And the darkness sets in
And I'll never see the sun again

I'd like to get a grasp
On something real
I'd like to find a new
Way to feel
I'd like to end
All my troubles
And I'd like to do
On the double

But when the night
Follows me home
And I start missing you
I know in my mind
There's nothing I can do
And the darkness sets in
And I'll never see the sun again
