Every time I look above I see you smiling there
And I know that you are looking down
To help me trough my day
And I wish I could see you once again
See you talk see you walk
See you smiling again touch me now

Your angel is smiling in my bedroom every night
And I know for sure that someday
Everthing is going to be allright
Won't you stay another day
So we can share another pray please stay

Yesterday you sang to me I heard it in my sleep
You said to me we'll meet again
Our dreams will always be
And I wish I could see you once again
See you talk see you walk
See you smiling again touch me now

I remember the days we had so strong
I miss you more than you will know
