"Met A Dark Girl"

I met a dark girl
In a leafy lane
She said I think it's love
And then I held her hand

So then she saved me
From the lonely place
I couldn't take my eyes
From her green eyed face

And girl, I run away with you
And yeah, you say you love me too

We took our love down
Where the ducks hide
She took our love up to the hillside
She put her love down
Where it shouldn't go
It made me tingle
Right to my elbow

Girl, I run away with you
And yeah, you say you love me too.

On our way back
To the real world
The waiter stood still, his muttered breath was heard
I want to stay there in the dreamland
I want to go back to the dreamland

Girl, I run away with you
And yeah, you say you love me too
