Seems like every time I call you
I'm standing in the pouring rain
I had another falling out with love
I'm back out on the streets again

I could use a cup of coffee
But I guess I better pass this time
But you could do an old friend a favor
While I'm still on the line

I know you said it's over
But this old heart's still
Burning with desire

So tell me one more time
You don't love me anymore
You gotta help me girl
I can't put out this fire

It's good to hear your voice again
I can almost see your smile
It's good to talk about old times
If only for a little while

Guess I'll go on back to my place
There's not much else for me to do
I wish that I could close my eyes
Without dreamin' of you

I know you said it's over
But this old heart's still
Burning with desire

So tell me one more time
You don't love me anymore
You gotta help me girl
I can't put out this fire

Oh you gotta help me girl
I can't put out this fire
No, no, you gotta help me girl
I can't put out this fire
