(feat. Ternaë Jordan)

Chorus- I know its a man's world but the world dont rotate without you far more than rubies, your worth comes from the Spririt
in you
So beautiful too, runs deeper than you, incredible, so wonderful

Verse1

Everyday you wake up fresh, make sure your hair straight now put on your make up, yes Anotha day in the life of the most beautiful creature walking the earth but you dont see it that way, you treat yourself like you're dirt. Not know that you're still a beauty even if he dont flirt
and you dont need alot of booty, in the back of that skirt Commercials tell you the only thing that matter now is your shirt size, but no one ever tell you to consider your worth
And so you do alot of things to boost your self esteeme up walk around with a frown saying yuo dont need love When the truth, is deep inside you want to be loosed got you compromising faith, hoping people see you So you decorate yourself with small clothes and tattoos peircing your nable and your eyebrow to be cute The problem is you need someone to lean to but God love you like you are, baby girl just be you

Chorus

I know its a man's world but the world dont rotate without you
far more than rubies, your worth comes from the Spririt

I know it gets hard for you, especially when you live in the hood when everything you see around you seem to never be good
When every man that you meet wont build you up like he should and every man from your street will try and hit if he could Yea, in front of all the public you be staunting like you're perfect but behind them closed doors, God see that you're hurting
And everytime you come around people think that you're perfect that's cause you hide behind the glammour, and them big ol purses

(and that's the truth about it) Everytime i see you i sigh just wanna wrap my arms around you, hug, and tell you to cry
Because, i can tell through the prodda and chanelle that when your girls drop you off you realize it aint well That's why you love when men stay atcha crib cause you can focus attention, even though you know the love aint real
And i hate to see em use you, hurt you and abuse you and throw your heart around for amusement (man)

Chorus

far more than rubies, your worth comes from the Spririt in you. So beautiful too, runs deeper than you, incredible, so wonderful

Verse3

I understand if you think God, aint yo cup of tea but He is cuse you're a princess, and God is a King I know they like to call you names in them songs they sing
but only 'b' word i think when i look at you is bling Cause you're a diamond That aint really you we see in them videos shaking, dancing, and showing all, in them lil bitty clothes Tryn to cover up your hurts and pain but you really know that though you looking hot, in your heart you be feeling cold

I know in life it's hard for you cause it seems that you aint nothing if your looks dont match them girls on the screne
And so you idolize them girls that pose in them magazines sucking in your stomach deep, tryn to get in them jeans But you aint gotta be america's idol, or the next top model, or that new face on BET cause you were fearfully and wonderfully made let your fashion be grace because in Jesus girl the rest cant compete

Chorus

without you
wonderful
