(Brother Ali Talking): Hey little honey bee. Haha. You look like you were looking at me I was standing over here. Naw. You wasn't looking at me? Well what were you looking at then? I know that you weren't looking at nobody around me Yeah, come over here. Lean a little bit closer Let me tell you something in your ear Chorus: [X2] Baby don't go I know you're listening But you gotta try to play your position Fallin' in love and you won't admit it We're only livin' come on and risk it Verse One: Baby girl I ain't easy on the eyes like the rest of them boys And I don't spend a months pay check on my clothes But when you in the bed with the pillow under head who you really want to get up and check on that noise? Got a permanent feather in my cap Got a stretch in my stride, a stroll to my step Realizing that it's all about the mindset Get a little closer the older I get Wear a ticklish grin on my chin The good Lord put me in this particular skin When He speakin' to the angels, I be listening then And I show an inside joke with all of them I'm high without smoke Shine without a rope I am the old, step outside when I am broke They always crowded around me when I spoke Because every time I start rhymin' it's a quote Leave it to me to see the diamonds in your coal Holler at the glow from the bottom of my soul Ain't no need to polish it no more Baby let your guard down and let your heart go Girl Chorus [X2] Bridge: C'mon and just throw your knees in the air for me baby Tremblin' like you just might care for me baby Say hell yeah Good till you say hell yeah (Brother Ali Talking): I'm saying. I came all the way over here I done laid myself out. The least you can do is dance with me. C'mon Verse Two: If I ask you to dance then we gonna actually dance I don't just rub my pecker on the back of your pants If you're down to take a chance then let me lead you by the hand You an expert on boys, let me teach about a man They stand close to me They want a dose of me If you witness me how come you don't love me? I had to look this way because I'm so stunning I spear blind you until you don't see no ugly Party starter, show stopper, real, no drama Born alone, die alone never had a coauthor

Don't no joker throw down no harder Light the roof on fire we don't need no water We gonna sit on a wish and let our feet dangle Let the song with no chorus be the lead single Damn how the world do it, the world is wrong She knew I was right the moment she heard this song Chorus [X2] Bridge: Just throw your knee in the air for me baby Tremblin' like you might just care for me baby Say hell yeah Good till you say hell yeah
