Because it's the first time, I will be alright after a couple days with the thought that it has already been one year Sadness finds me with every anniversary that was made with you I was so self-conscious the first time I confessed my love,
after the day we first met passed On your birthday I celebrate with a cake of tears and lit candles
I Believe in you I Believe in your mind
A year has already passed, but after a year and another year on top of
That
I'll be waiting for you

I couldn't say that I want to see you so much, to please come back to me Because the warm look in his eyes makes your face glow brighter than the ring on your left hand
I Believe in you I Believe in your mind Knowing you've started over, making memories without me now
Ooh~

The memories I think back on are always past laughs, talks, and wishes
There's only one new memory, the wait for you to turn into tears

I Believe in you I Believe in your mind
Knowing you've started over, making memories without
me now

A year has already passed, but after a year and
another year on top of
That
I'll be waiting for you
