There's something in the air
A feeling of uncertainly
I see it everywhere
Don't let those bad times fall on me
We don't want to change the world
Just looking to survive
Our voices will be heard,
We'll stand up for our rights.
Our spirit will awake,
And something deep inside
Will help us find the way
Waiting for the revolution day.

Hold on to your beliefs,
Don't think about what people say.
Got to let the music speak for you,
And be the light to show the way.

We don't want to change the world
Just looking to survive
Our voices will be heard,
We'll stand up for our rights.
Our spirit will awake,
And something deep inside
Will help us find the way
Waiting for the revolution day.

We don't want to change the world.
We don't want to change the world.

Hold on to your beliefs,
And don't listen to what the people say.
