You ask me if I love you
I answer back I do
Then you ask me to prove it to you
So I stay all night
Holding you tight than I go first light
As I'm home findally alone
But feeling tired
So I go to sleep
But the phone rings
And where talking about the samethimg
Giving me no choice but to say goodbye
But before I can you ask me if I love you
I answer back I do then you say come back
And prove it to me
So I stay the night again
Just wanting it to end
And leave at the first light
Than I go home again
And this time I'm in my bed
Till the door bell rings
And I'm not alone cause your here
As we talk about the samething
Where you ask me if I love you
I answer back I do
Than you say prove it to me
So we go upstairs letting our love go free
Than soon after it's just me again
The way I wanting it to be
