"There Nowhere To Go"

Now darling understand
There nowhere to go
Cause the road at an end
Even our dreams are telling us so.
Because lady luck went dry
When we kiss the dice goodbye
Losing our faith along with our soul
And we can't win it back
Cause the devil has control.
So darling understand
There nowhere to go
The road at a end
Even are dreams are telling us so.
So honey call it quits
And start heading back
At least we can say we try it.
Now take my hand
And get ready to aboard
Because the train coming fast
And soon it will past.
So darling understand
There nowhere to go
The road at an end
Even are dreams are telling us so.
