Well, far between sundown's finish and midnight's broken toll
We ducked inside the doorway, thunder crashing
As majestic bells of bolts struck shadows in the sound Seeming to be the chimes of freedom crashing

Yeah, flashing for the warriors whose strength is not to fight Flashing for the refugees on their unarmed road of flight
And for each and every underdog soldier in the night
We gazed upon the chimes of freedom flashing

Well, in the city's melted furnace, unexpectedly we watched With faces hidden here while the walls were tightening
As the echo of the wedding bells before the blowing rain Dissolved into the wild bales of lightning

Yeah, tolling for the rebel, yeah, tolling for the rake Tolling for the luckless, the abandoned and forsaken Yeah tolling for the outcast, burning constantly at stake
And we gazed upon the chimes of freedom flashing

Alright now

And then through a cloud like curtain in a far off corner flashed
As the hypnotic splattered mist was slowly lifting Well, electric light still struck like arrows Fired but for the ones condemned to drift or else be kept from drifting

Well, tolling for the searching ones, on their speechless seeking trail For the lonesome-hearted lovers with too personal a tale
And for each un-harmful gentle soul misplaced inside a jail
And we gazed upon the chimes of freedom flashing

Well, starry-eyed and laughing, I recall when we were caught Trapped by no track of hours for they hanged suspended
As we listened one last time and we watched with one last look Spellbound and swallowed as the tolling ended

Yeah, tolling for the aching ones whose wounds Cannot be nursed for the countless confused Accused, misused, strung out ones and worse
And for every hung-up person in the whole wide universe (Yeah)
And we gazed upon the chimes of freedom flashing

Alright, now, whoa, whoa, whoa Well, whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa
Well, whoa, whoa, whoa
Well, whoa, whoa, whoa
