There's a key in the door, there's a light on the wall but you can't find your way out See there's something in your face, in a troubled kinda place and I wanna make it better now
I won't give up on ya, never on ya
Won't lose the love
There's a fire but it's cold, so baby let me hold you

These are the arms that I've been given to put around you
These are the hands that I believe were made to not let go There's only one reason, only one reason why I'm walking the world
So don't doubt me, don't doubt me

I will brake every cloud, if the rain is coming down anything just to show you You're in a troubled kinda place and a thousand miles away but I swear I'm gonna reach you
I won't give up on ya, never on ya
Won't lose the love
Till the up turns cold, always gonna hold you

These are the arms that I've been given to put around
you
There's only one reason, only one reason why I'm
walking the world
So don't doubt me, don't doubt me

It isn't just a twist of faith
It isn't something we can change
I was put on earth for you

These are the arms that I've been given to put around
you

And there's only one reason, only one reason why I'm walking the world

So don't doubt me, don't doubt me

It isn't just a twist of faith, oooh

And there's only one reason, only one reason why I'm
walking the world

So don't doubt me, don't doubt me
