You were once the only angel on the map
You played upon my heartstrings 'til they snapped
It's too late to come back boy I wish that I'd stayed
But I can listen to you at the Bottom of the Grave

Underneath a lamplight bright as shade
The weeds have cast away the friends you made
There lies my dearly departed old Babe

I can listen to you (He can listen to you)
I can listen to you at the Bottom of the Grave
I can hear you break down (He can hear you break down)
I can hear you break down at the Bottom of the Grave
I can hear you break down at the Bottom of the, Bottom of the...

GRAVE!

I am told you thought to take the train

Instead you took another person's lane
And if I was there then I know you'd be saved
Now I can listen to you at the Bottom of the Grave
I never met to hurt you cause a fuss
But you never showed your cards til the two us, we bit
the dust
It's not only you but my heart's in decay

I can listen to you (He can listen to you)
I can listen to you at the Bottom of the Grave
I can hear you break down (He can hear you break down)
I can hear you break down at the Bottom of the Grave
of the...

GRAVE!

Do you hear something?
