Seems like only yesterday you crashed into my life
Scared the hell out of me like a roller coaster ride
Your life it was a total mess I mean borderline insane
So many ups and downs sunshine and rain We talked we laughed we cried we shared some company
You know I could've died when you bared your soul to me
I saw your scars were deep from trying to escape
And as our friendship grew I prayed it's not to late

Chorus:

You just need someone to love you
Why can't that someone be me?
Can't you see I love you?
Tell me can you love someone like me
Just got to know can you love someone like me

I listened to your mistakes the choices you regret

Pain you shouldn't couldn't take the memories too forget
I know it's complicated another man holds the key You've been caged for so long now won't you let me set you free
In your eyes I'm just a friend and I know you could do better
But when I look into your eyes I see the way we fit together
Together we could change the world, maybe, maybe not.
As long as I'd have you to hold that's more than enough

Chorus:

You just need someone to love you
Why can't that someone be me?
Can't you see that I love you?
Tell me can you love someone like me
Just got to know can you love someone like me
