You may not be as strong as me
And I may not care to teach you
It may be hard to keep up with me
But I'll always be able to reach you
And if you go forward...I'll meet you there
And if you climb up through the cold, freezing air
Look down below you.....search out above
And cry out to life for a frozen love
Life gave me you, there the change was made
There's no beginning over
You are not happy, but -what is love?
Hate gave you me for a lover
And if you go forward...I'll meet you there
And if you climb up through the cold, freezing air
Look down below you...search out above
And cry out to life for a frozen love
