Sunflowers and your face fascinate me
You love only the tallest trees
I come running down the hill
But you're fast-you're the winner
Long distance winner
Not unlike the blue-white fire
You burn brightly in spite of yourself
I bring the water down to you
But you're too hot to touch
You're too hot to touch
Love somebody.....save their soul
Tie them to your heaven.....erase their hell
Save their lifestyle...if you feel it
But don't try to change them...you never will
Sunflowers and your face fascinate me
You go into the dusty-pink day
I come calling unto you
But you're fast - you're the winner
Long distance winner
