Sing a simple song of freedom
Sing it like you've never sung before
Let it fill the air and tell the people everywhere
That we, the people here, don't want no war

Seven hundred million, are you listening
Presidents, Prime Ministers and Kings
Let's put them out on the shelf
And they'll fight among themselves
Cause we, the people here, don't want no war
We, the people here, don't want no war

Just sing a simple song of freedom
Sing it like you never sung before, oh, yeah
And just let it fill the air and
Tell the people everywhere that
We, the people here, don't want no war
We, the people here, don't want no war

Seven hundred million, are you listening
Presidents, Prime Ministers and Kings
We're gonna line 'em up, line 'em up
And put them on the shelves
Let them fight among themselves

Cause we, the people here, don't want no war
We, the people here, don't want no war
We, the people here, we don't want
Oh, oh, we don't want no more war
