I believed, I could see a day you would want me, like I want you
You would need me, like I need you too There was a moment, I thought time might change your mind
And there'd be a place there for me in your life

But I can't change the way you don't feel
And I can't make you see what your heart won't see
And I can't make you need what you say, you don't need Well, I can't change you baby, I can't change the way you don't feel

And now as I walk away, I won't look back, I won't break down
What I was living for, I'll have to live without There will be moments, I'll think how it might have been But baby now this is how it must end

'Cause I can't change the way you don't feel
And I can't make you see what your heart won't see
And I can't make you need what you say, you don't need
I can't change you baby, I can't change the way you don't feel

(I can't change, I can't change the way you don't feel)
No, I can't change the way you don't feel
And I can't make you see what your heart won't see
And I can't make you need what you say, you don't need
I can't change you baby and never gonna change you baby, no
I can't change you baby, I can't change the way you
don't feel

I can't change the way you don't feel
I can't change you baby, I can't change the way you
don't feel
