Even though we're apart
You're still right here in my heart
Your hands are still in mine
I can still hear you whispering words divine

I can feel your warm embrace
Just the thought of it puts a smile upon my face
But my imagination, whoa I said it's so strong
But reality keep assuring me I'm all alone

But now from my lips comes a song
With tears in my eyes
'Cuz now you're gone
So all your sweet talk

Even though we're apart
You're still right here in my heart
My imagination, oh I said it's so strong,
But reality keeps assuring me that I'm all alone

My imagination, oh so strong
But reality keeps assuring me that I'm all alone
