Strangle your hold
Don't let me go
Until I want what you want

Pray for the strength
(To) keep it in place
Promise to God you won't

I've got faith in you to lose yours in me
Like you say though before you go
"I should probably be letting you go"

Acting the part
Never that hard
Memorize the lines on your face now

I've got faith in you to lose all of mine
Like you say though before you go
"I should probably be letting you go"

We know things always happen for no reason at all
You say though before you go
"I should probably be letting you go"

I've got faith in you to lose yours in me
You say though before you go
"I should probably be letting you go"
Well, I should probably be letting you go
