Anyone could guess that you'll be holding your breath
until you're blue.
You won't let them look, read you like a book so long overdue.

I won't ask for much, I won't ask for anything.
I won't ask for much as long as you come back for me.

It's only fear that keeps you away from here, keeps
you from me.
You can't see the spark, coz you're afraid of the dark and I'm afraid of the day you leave.

I won't ask for much, I won't ask for anything at all.

I won't ask for much, I won't ask for anything,
as long as you come back, as long as you come back
for me.

Maybe we took way too long waiting for someone to come
look for us.
Maybe I took way too long waiting for you to come back,
for you to just come back for me.

Every day that passed, I thought you'd never ask and you never did.
I'm happy for your ring, sorry for everything I never said.

I won't ask for much, I won't ask for anything at all.

I won't ask for much, I won't ask for anything,
I won't ask for much as long as you come back,
as long as you come back
as long as you come back for me.
