Golden rings around your head never show
We don't seem like ourselves anymore
Never really takes a lot to lose you

Make a wish upon a falling star Wish I was who you wished I was

Never really takes a lot to lose you
I don't have to say a lot to lose you Oh, you don't have to leave a light on Even though I'm coming home, you should start without me

Still I miss you the most when you're here Cigarettes where our words once were

Never really takes a lot to lose you
I don't have to say a lot to lose you
Oh, you don't have to leave a light on Oh, even though I'm coming home, I can't reach you where you are
So you can start without me
