The soft light doesn't hardly make you easier to watch
You face your fears with a poker face --
I should be holding your hands for this.

I guess you know that we don't know what we're doing
This for,
Help me kill my time some more.
Over the edge eventually: If I don't fall, push me.
I hate the things you love me for.
I could have sworn you promised more.

I can't tell the difference between us anymore.
I don't think I want what's right
Sober me up so I can let you down.

I guess you know we don't know what we're doing this
For,
Help me kill my time some more.
Over the edge eventually: If I don't fall, push me.
I hate the things you love me for.
I could have sworn you promised more.

I guess you know we don't know what we're doing this
For,
Help me kill my time some more.
Over the arc eventually:
You said you only need someone to help you help
Yourself,
But I don't know how.
