Last night, as I watched the stars from my window
I pray Lord above to guide and protect you
Though I'm not wanted now, I still love you somehow
That is my only prayer for you

Last night, as I gazed through the mist in my eyes
I wanted you here, to hold you so near
But silence tells me you didn't hear my plea

I miss you so much since you left me
My heart ached apart since you left me

Though I'm not wanted now, I still love you somehow
That is my only prayer for you

Last night, last night
Last night, I prayed for you
