What if time is unwound and it takes us nowhere
Have our dreams led us astray?
Who's to say what is wrong with the way you make it Can't break rules forget your tools You're someone else's fool
If i don't have the patience for another light bulb burned
I can't see forty thousand lakes that I could jump and sink into deep

Didn't want a roller coaster ride to

Up and down jerk me around Attach some strings to my arms and legs To lead me far away from where I stray and where I'm going now
If I don't have the patience for another light bulb
burned
I can't see all the other places I could run and sink into deep

Time is wasted for your hopeful chance and I am older Older still
