I can't bare to live alone
As hard as I've tried
And all that's left is my skin and bones
With nothing inside
A warning out to everyone
To see if anyone cares
Bring some answers when you come
You can help me find

What's inside
Open shell
You collide
Lonesome love is
When the lasting won't return
Pull my heart out just to watch it burn

And I can't breathe within my skin
It's tied up in knots
It made a noose around my soul
That hung from my thoughts
A thousand times I took the blame
But the guilt would not subside
I took some pills to kill the pain
And all that died was
