I won't let you step on me. And I won't let you put me down. And I won't back away from your threats. From your words. Your trying to make me feel weak. But your words they only go so deep. I'm too strong to step away. I want no part of what you say. I won't back down from your hatred or your threats. I won't back down from your words or your hate. I won't let you step on me. And I won't let you put me down. And I won't back away from your threats. From your words. Your trying to make me feel weak. But your words they only go so deep. I'm too strong to step away. I want no part of what you say. I won't back down from your hatred or your threats. I won't back down from your hatred or your threats. And I won't back down from your words or your hate. I'll be here till the end, I'll be here till the end. Be here till the end, be here till the end. I won't back down. This ignorance has gone too far. (x3)
