My life
I'm on the run from the great beyond
And I'll leave you far behind Where no one knows i've prepared this toast
So raise your glasses, raise your glasses

Today, I save, this Monday morning
the greyest days are over Today, I change, this Monday morning and I've finally made my break

At times, I plan this plot when the voices start then I'm ordinary at times, I dream of you in the search for clues but you'll never find me, never find me

Today, I save, this Monday morning
the greyest days are over
Today, I change, this Monday morning
and I've finally (I've finally) made my break (made my break), I've made my break (made my break)

I'm dying and running away
From the lies that bend this place
I simply just dream my escape
When no one knows I'm hiding (I am high)

Today, I save, this Monday morning
the greyest days are over
Today, I save, this Monday morning
the greyest days are over
Today, I change, this Monday morning
and I've finally (I've finally) made my break on Monday morning
on Monday morning
on Monday morning

I've made my break
Monday morning
