Hear with a word
Like you cut on the line
Evidence of everything
To acerted bloodshot eyes

It's the same
With all the apostates,
The party hack primates

You sell yourself alive
And cut the inside.
A once functioning mind
In warm formaldehyde

Ignorance, invincible:
A solution tested in time
Poison words for poisoned heads
Their vitriol of selfishness
In everything trained

Every word - in reaction
Every thought - in rejection
Every act - in rote repetition
The same mistakes, it's so safe to say,
Come home

Shut it out

Because what you live is what you own
And what you break is what you own

See the promise and the threat.
