

Burn In Silence "Primal Human Pain"

Primal Human pain
it shows me the way
pure as your first day images pass before my eyes some hard to see to visualize given my state of reality sometimes its best not to believe natural design
the fragile nature of my mind breaking point dissolved here comes the flood Primal human pain
spewing from my heart and soul taking me away
it takes me away
you dont have to fall into the patterns of and everyday
look behind these mundane walls to a life
as pure as your first day reaching out to find what's real my hopes are gaining strength eyes are open to the lies you concealed the real truths mine to take

natural design
the evolution of the mind pushes me to find order in the
primal human pain
now that i have overcome
