Between the seasons we find room.
And I like the way your lips turned legendary.
And I like the way the sun will come to light.

And I like the way your lips turned legendary.
And I like the way the sun will come to light.

But it won't be long until it's your very last goodbye.
Decide to make it hard to find, but make it.

And if you decide that you need a thousand
heartaches,
A thousand heartaches,
And into this hotel room, was the greatest mistake,
The greatest mistake,

And I want this all to be just necessary so when the
darkness comes we won't need the light.
And I want this all to be just necessary so when the
darkness comes we won't need the light.

But it won't be long until it's your very last goodbye.
Decide to make it, between the seasons we find room.

And if you decide that you need a thousand
heartaches,
A thousand heartaches,
And into this hotel room, was the greatest mistake,
The greatest mistake,

This is as real as it gets with weapons in hand.
We opt to not lay down our guns.

And if you decide that you need a thousand
heartaches,
A thousand heartaches,
And into this hotel room, was the greatest mistake,
The greatest mistake,

Between the seasons we find room to breathe out,
Between the seasons we find room to breathe out,

And if you decide that you,
And if you decide that you,
And if you decide that you,
And if you decide.
