Black cats stream across your path
You count them as you go
13 times in 13 days, 13 steps to nowhere, you think
Someone's trying to tell you something
Someone's seen your rights & wrongs
Aint no one there to tell you nothing
You've just heard too many songs.
No gods above, no hexes from below
No scapegoats in the sky for you
No fate. no fate. no fate. no way.
No scapegoats in the sky
When it's your time to die
Lighting strikes burned down your house
You think you're next in line.
Avoid the cracks and broken backs
You hold your breath & cross your fingers
Connoisseur of broken mirrors,
It aint luck keeping you alive
This lightning finds you out
The more you try to hide
No gods above, no hexes from below
No scapegoats in the sky for you
No fate. no fate. no fate. no way.
No scapegoats in the sky
Our superstitions get us by
But son - you're not the only one.
13 steps
To nowhere
