Arrived on early winter freeze
To fight god's word that no one sees
To lead his people, lead the way
On this darkest winter day

To lead the way
On this darkest winter day
Damned before ever heard
Never heed a word

And the day will come,
And the day will die
For the chance to break off from this lie
The god sees him all around
And then he throws him to the ground
Dark angel fallen to his knees
Without a god for him to plead
To lead the way
On this darkest winter day
Damned before ever heard
Never heed a word

And the night will fall
And the truth will show
But the pain of this one man, we'll surely never know

The cold eating his bare skin
So many battles without win
But when no people ever could
Two thousand years and still no good

To lead the way
On this darkest winter day
Damned before ever heard
Never heed a word
